Investment Regulation Update 2025 Bali Investment Strategy

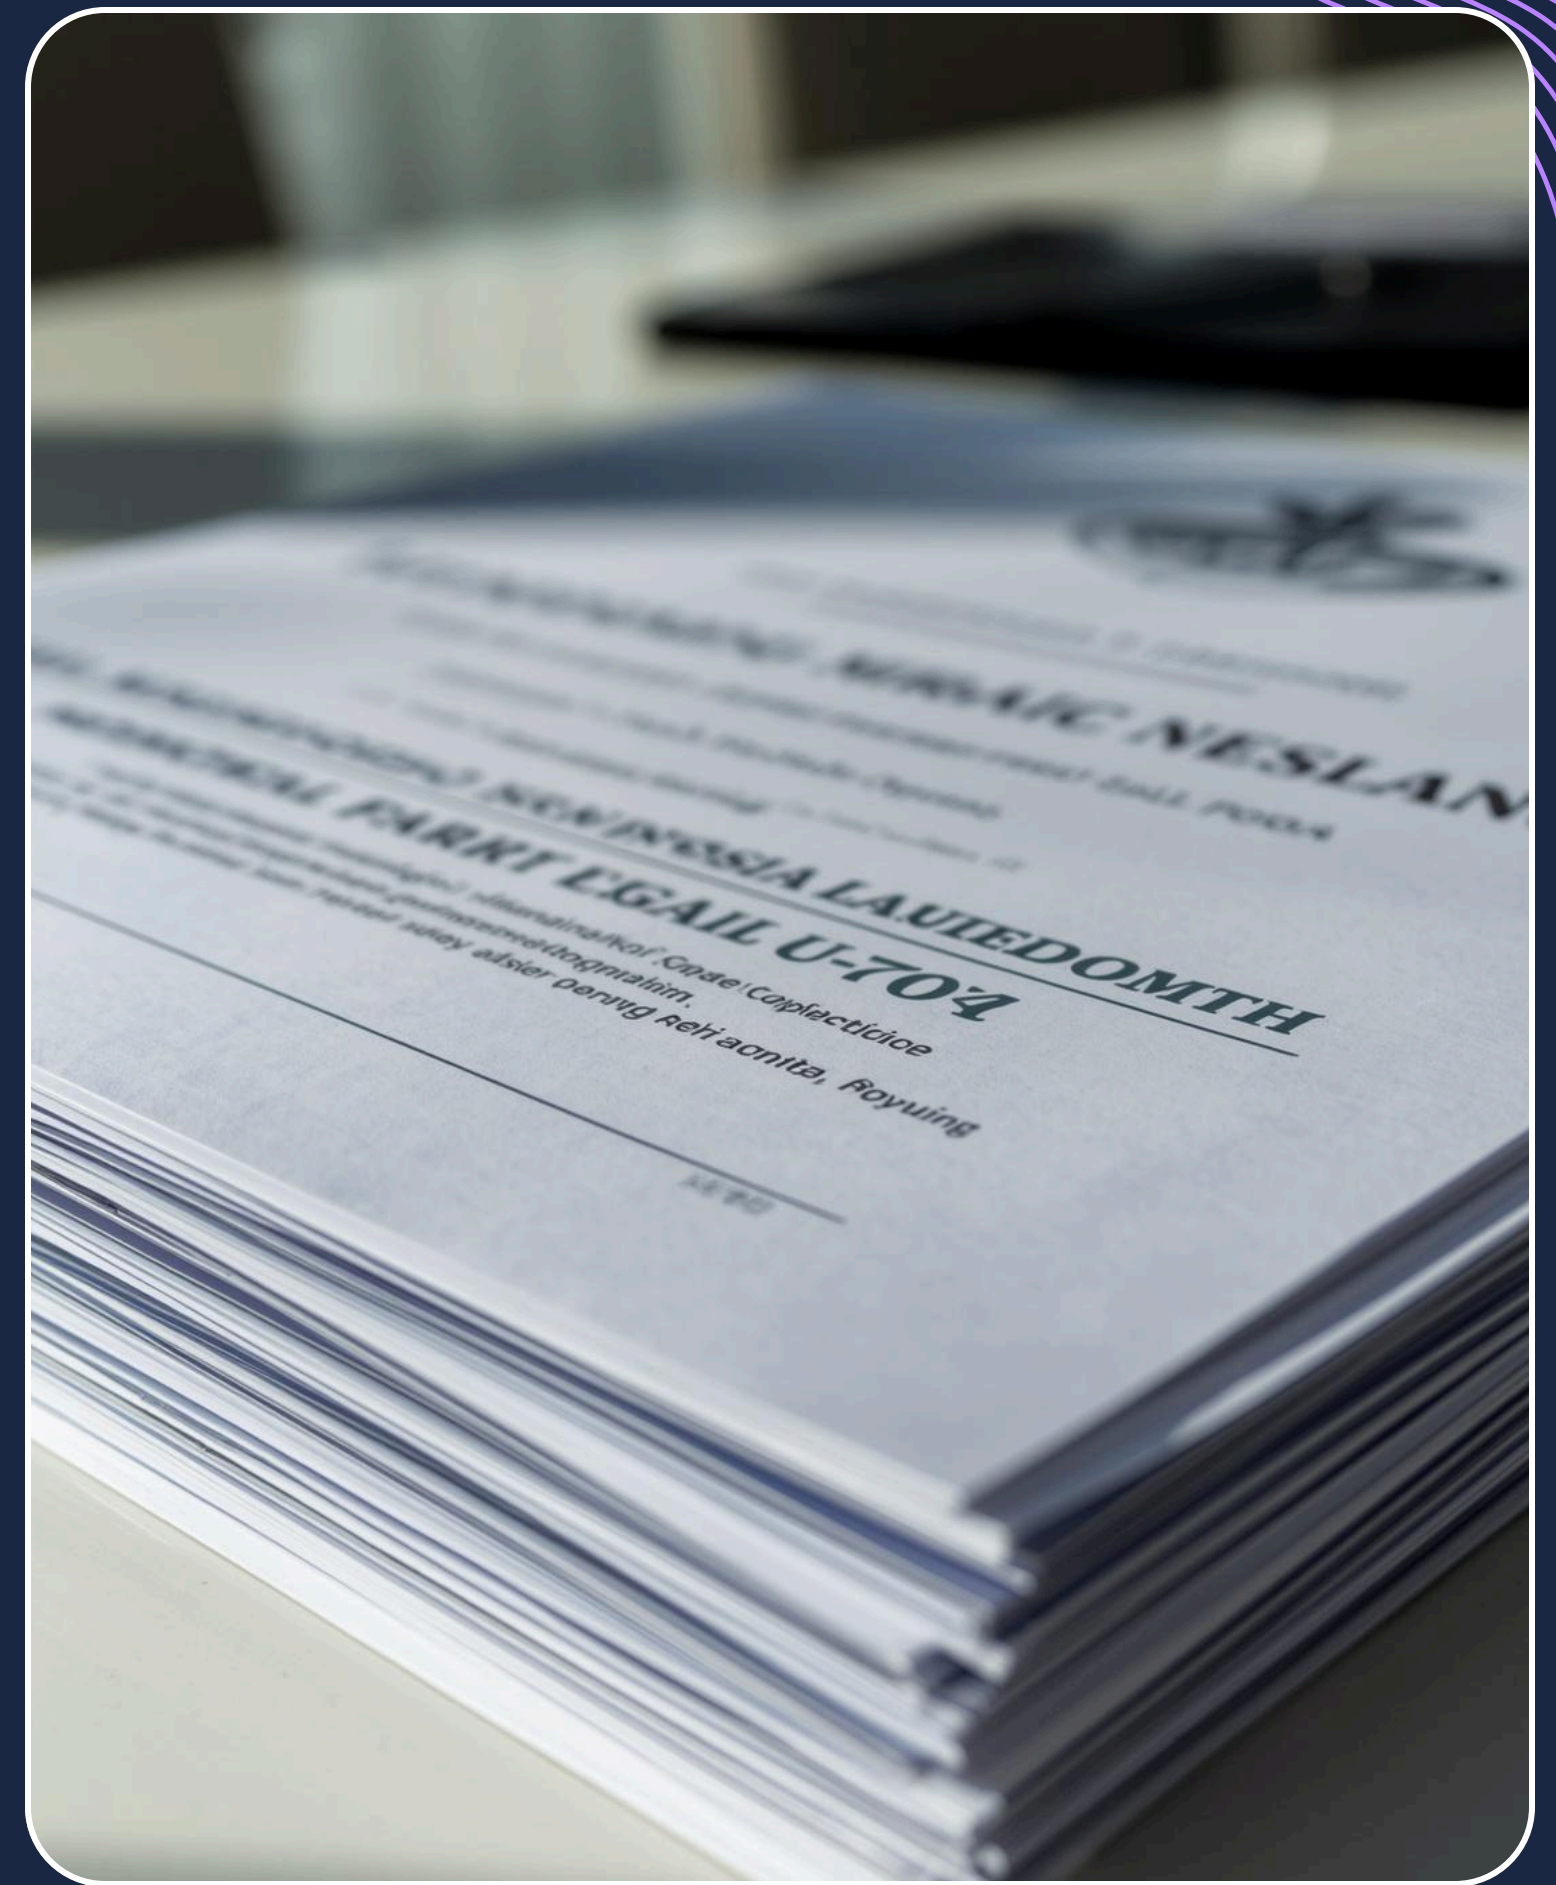

Why This Matters

The 2025 rules significantly reshape the legal landscape for foreign and service-based businesses in Bali.

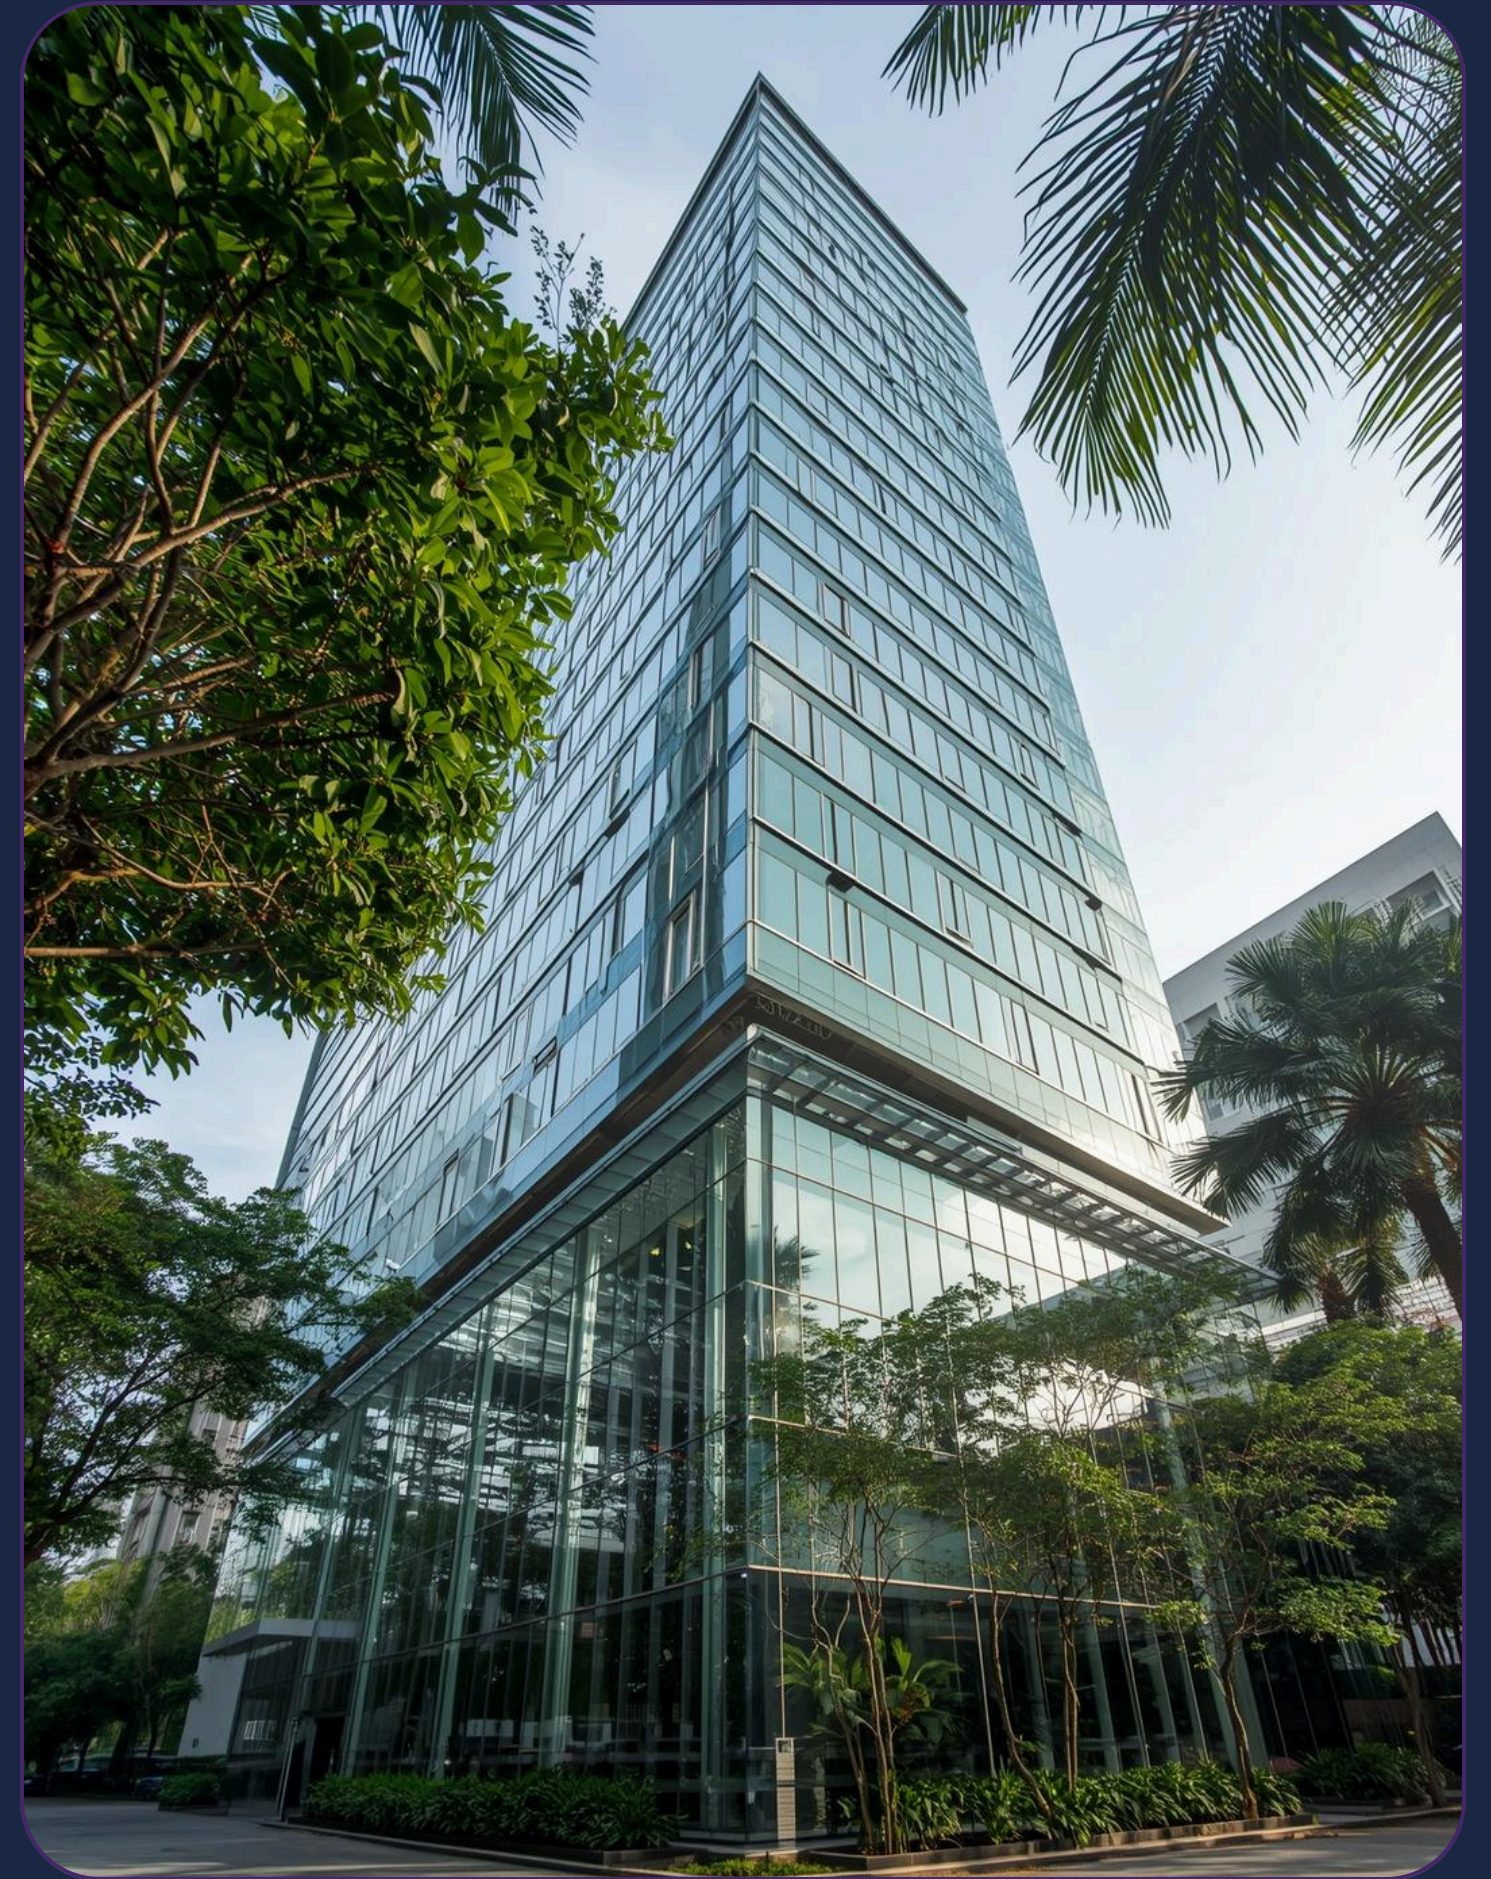

Regulatory Shift Overview

Legacy Assumptions

The shift in regulations necessitates a thorough review of previous assumptions, ensuring alignment with new licensing requirements.

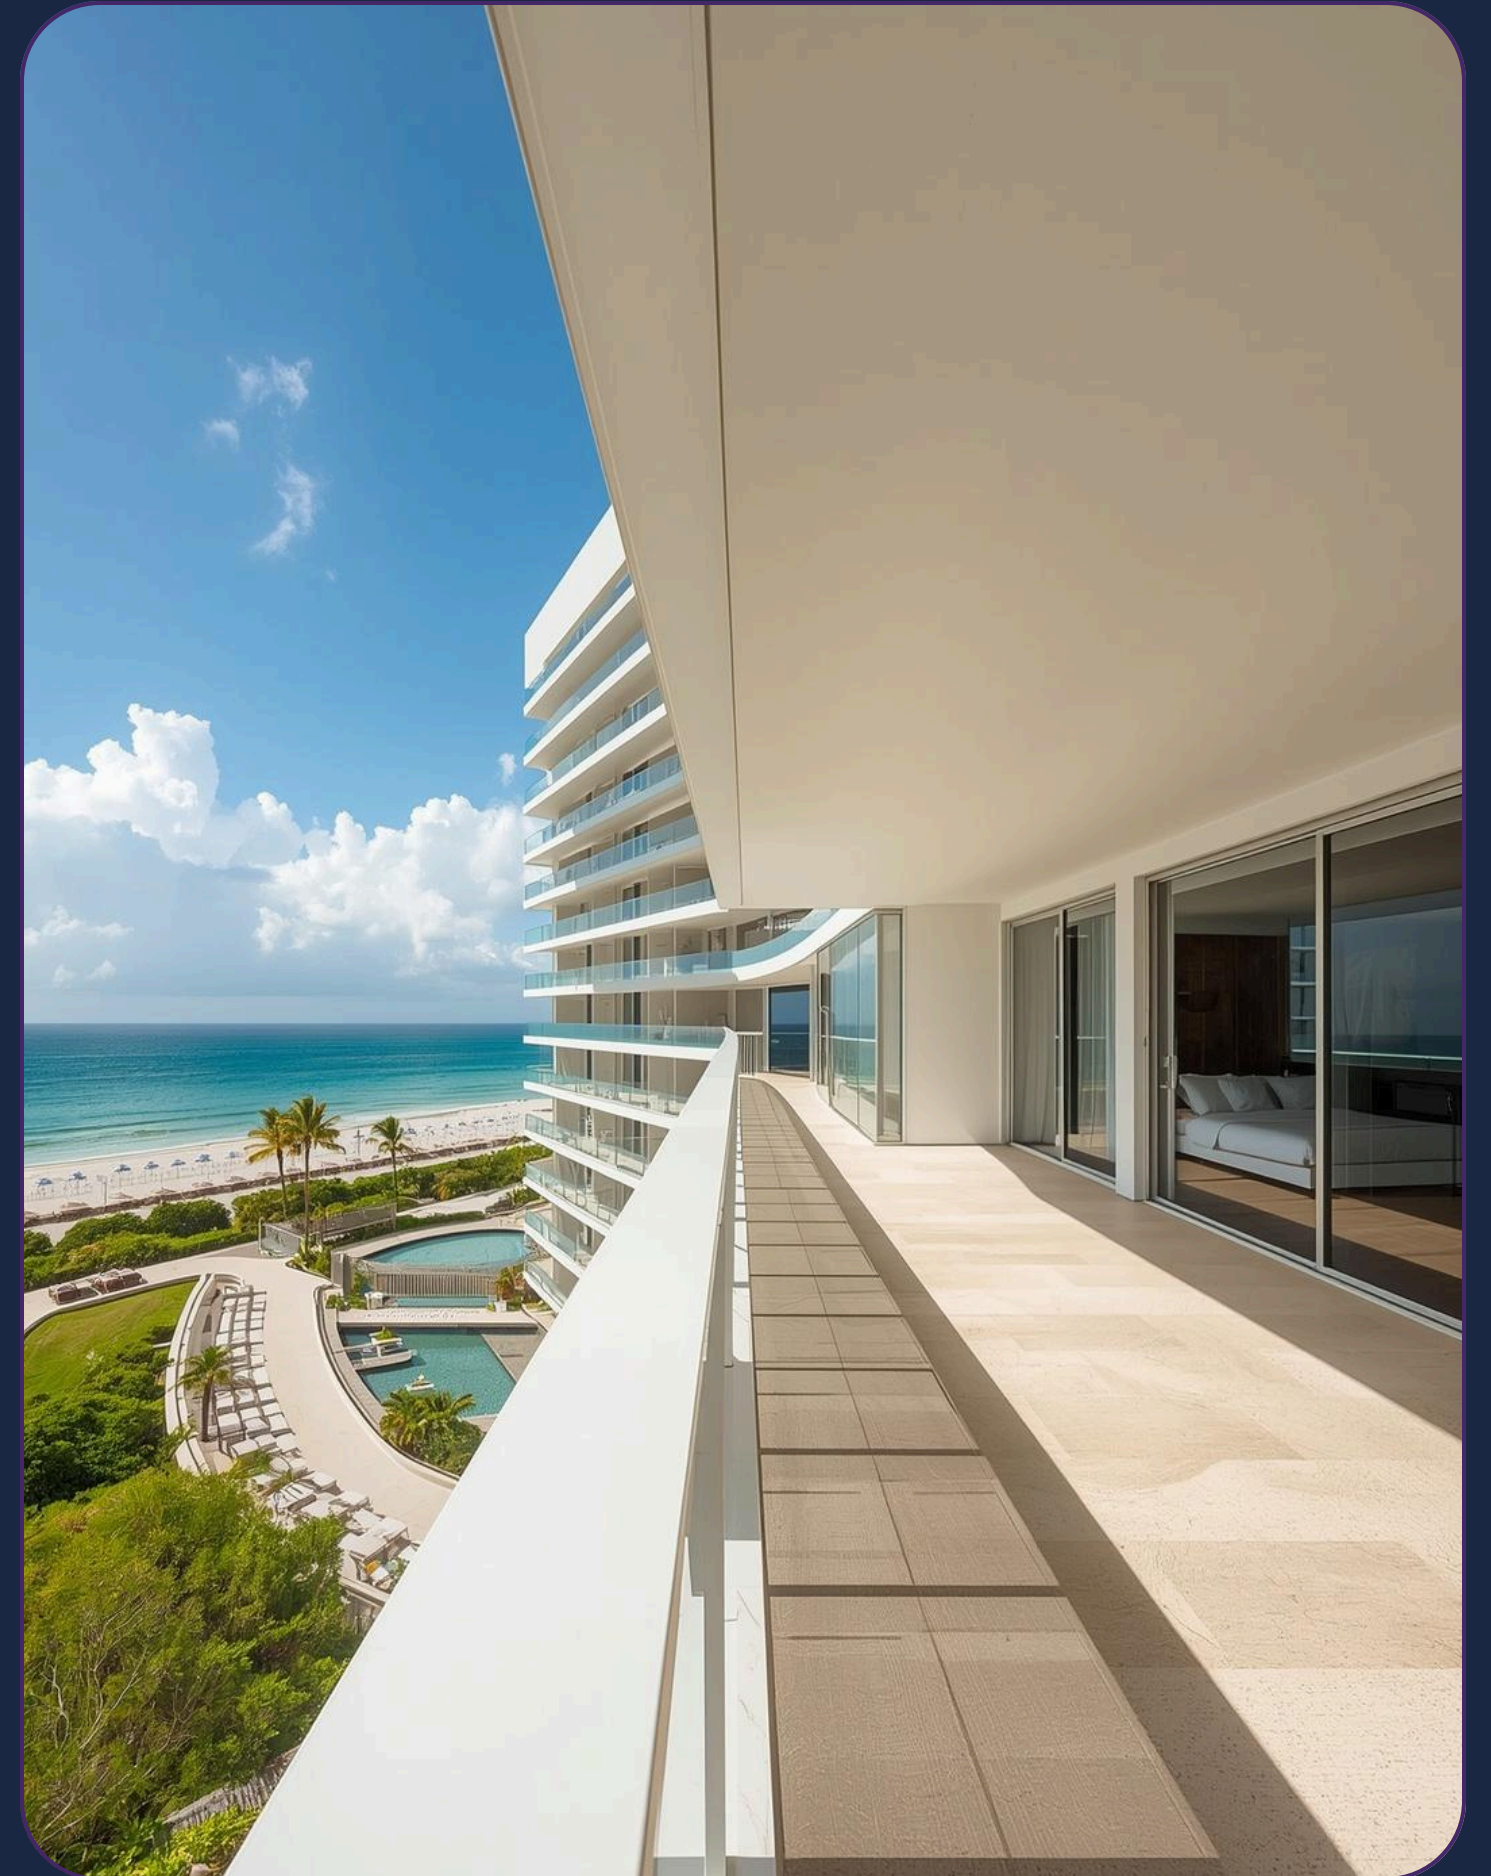

Key compliance pressure points require businesses to modernize their operational structures, ensuring alignment with updated codes and regulations to avoid potential legal conflicts and operational disruptions.

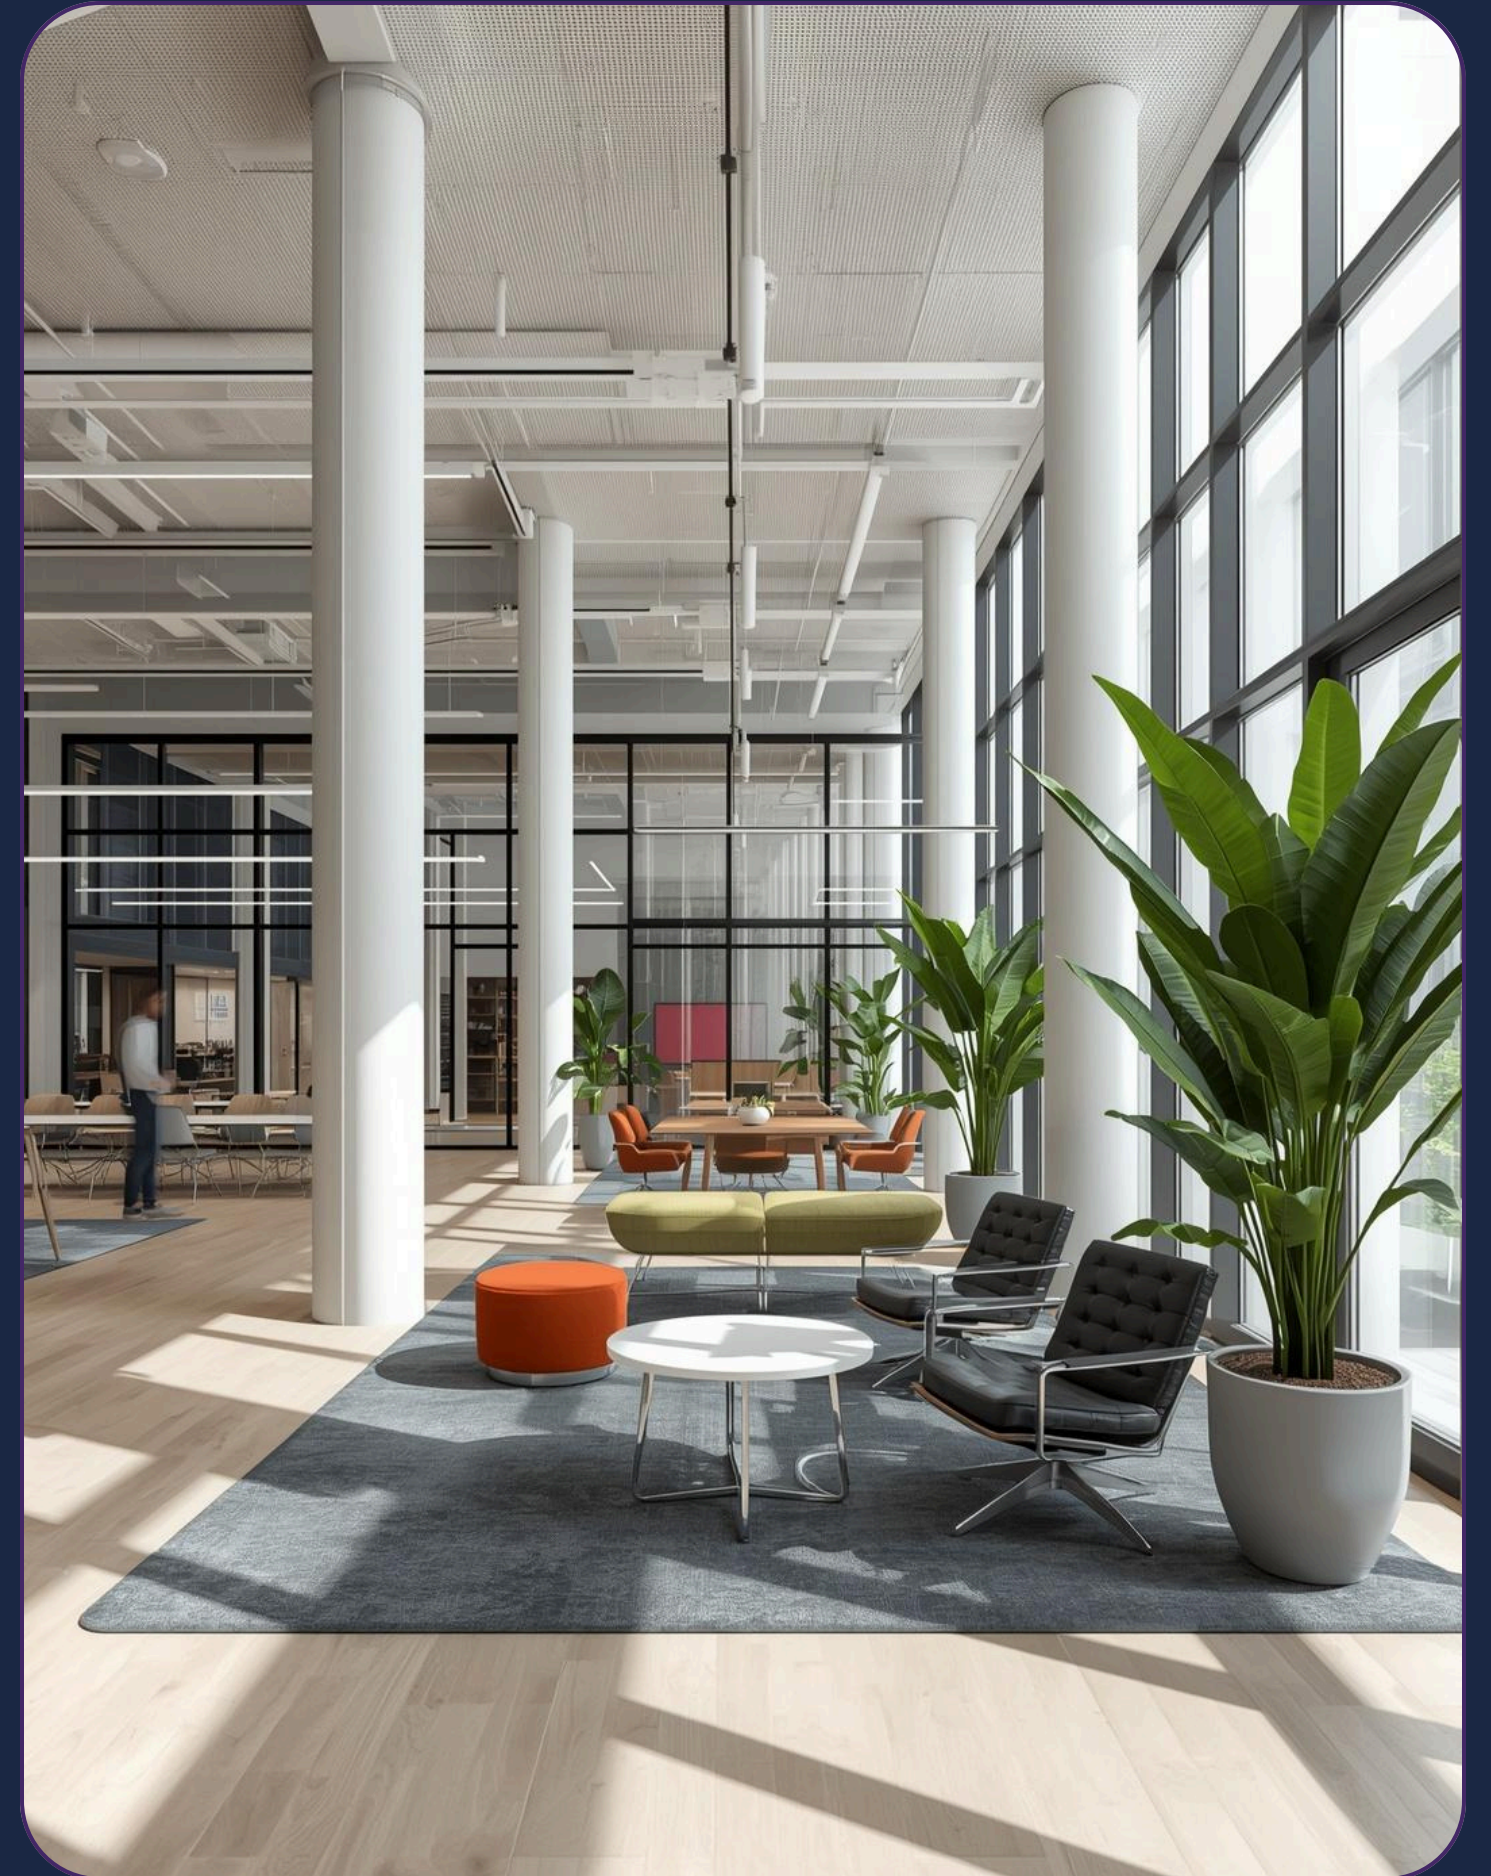

Accommodation & Real Estate

Real estate and accommodation sectors face high compliance risks, necessitating careful review of current operational practices.

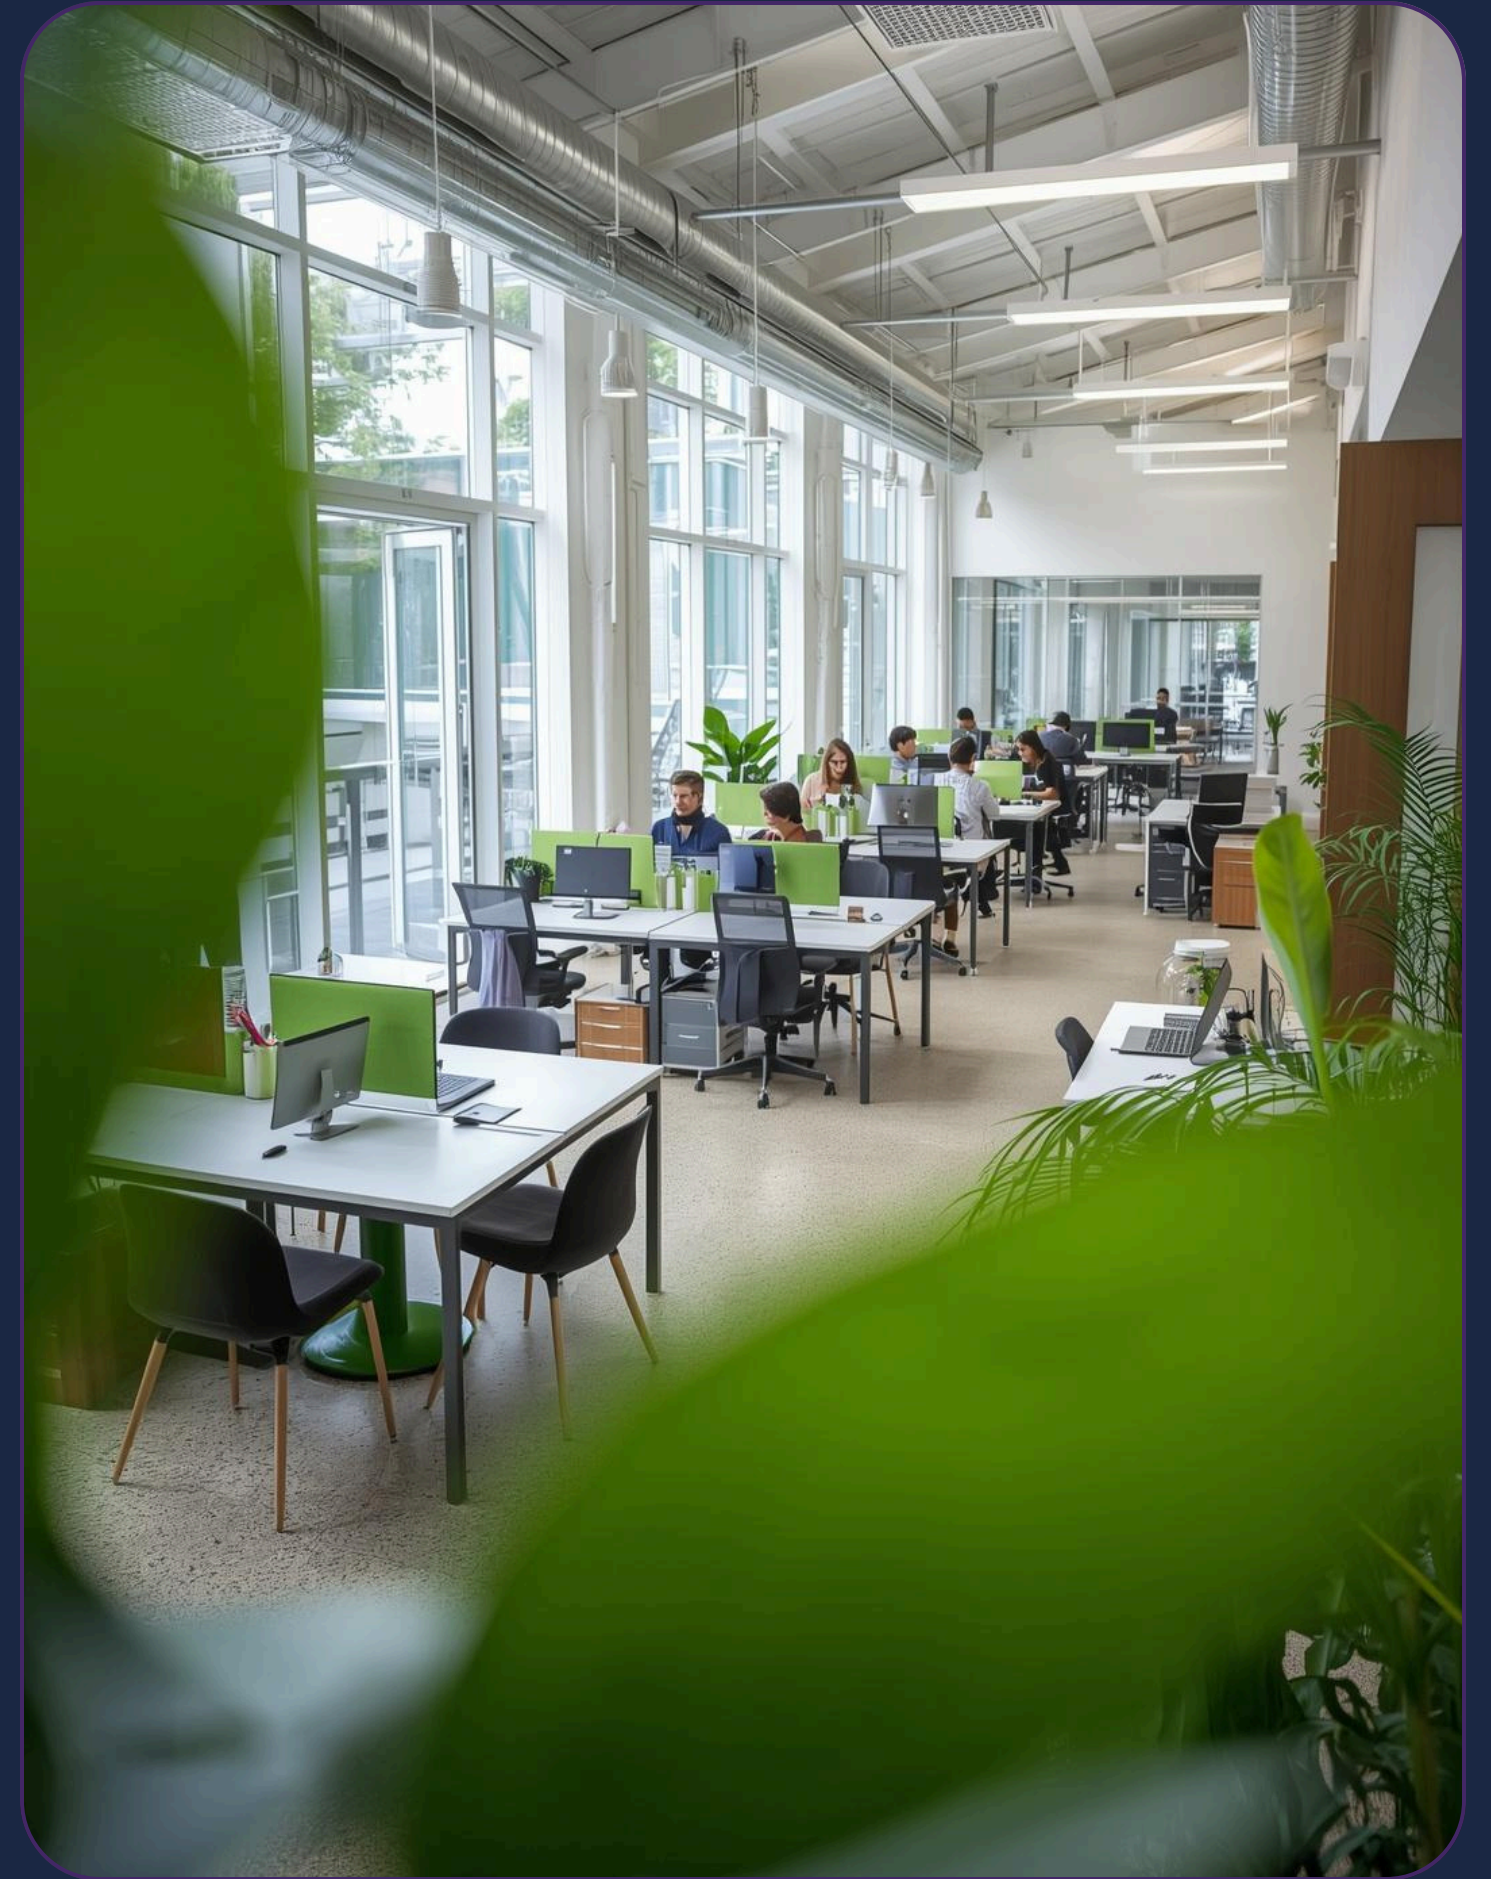

Virtual Office Risk

Stricter regulations are challenging the viability of virtual offices, necessitating a shift to more compliant operational models.

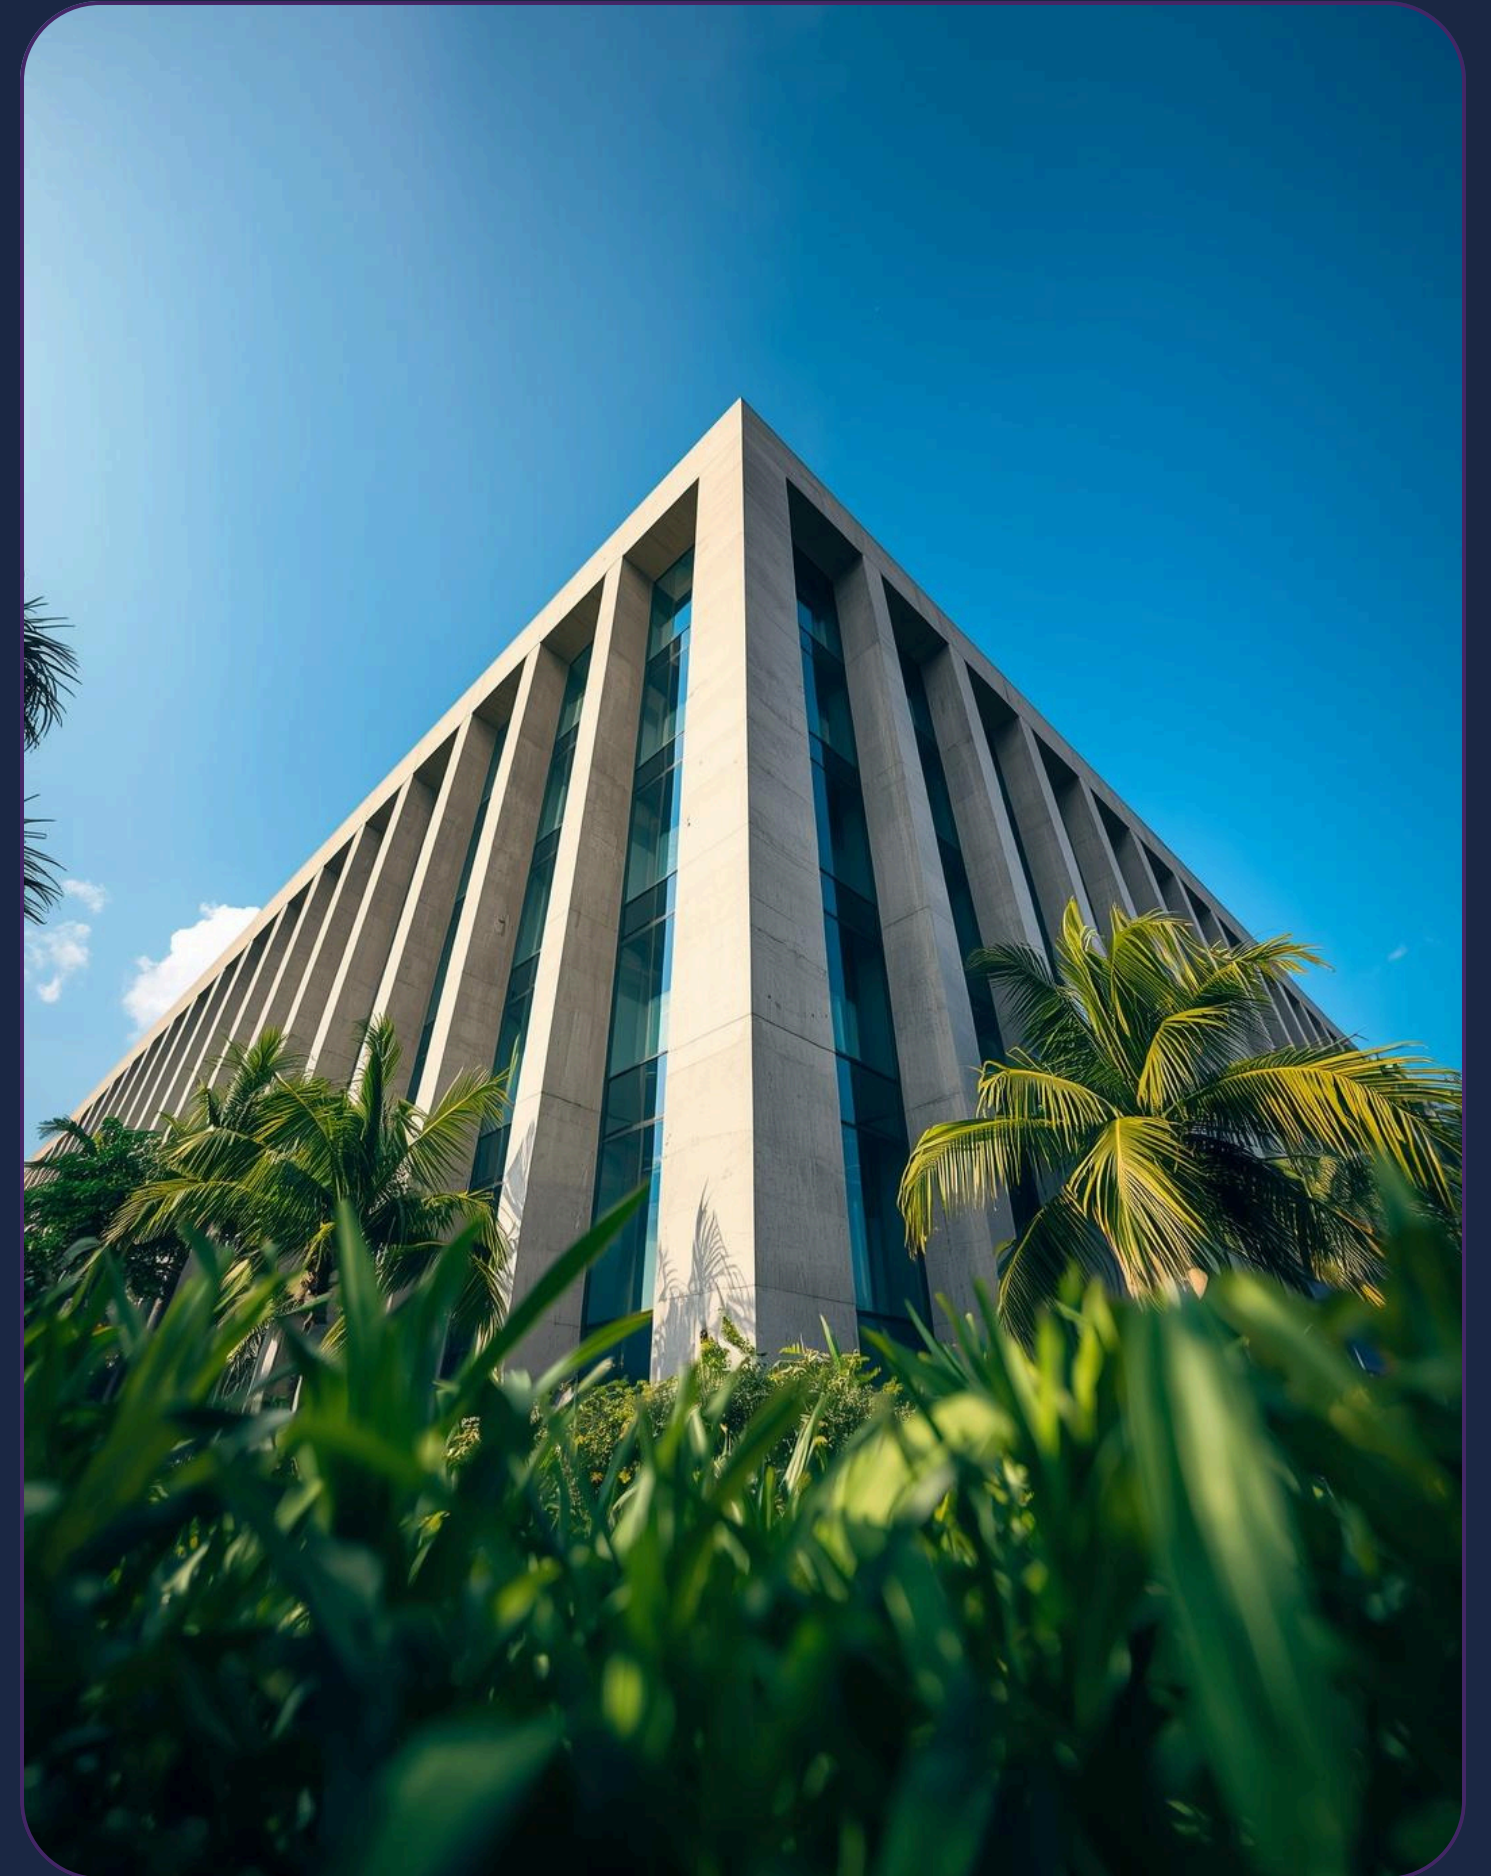

Co-Working Space Model

Transitioning to a co-working space enhances operational legitimacy while fostering real business engagement and collaboration.

Government Signals

Verify official sources to navigate district-level restrictions and zoning conversion blocks effectively for compliance.

The client outreach has identified 41 clients under review. Our focus is on providing clarity and actionable paths for clients to navigate the new regulatory landscape effectively.

Client Cases

Common issues faced include outdated codes, virtual office use, and the need for physical addresses to ensure compliance.

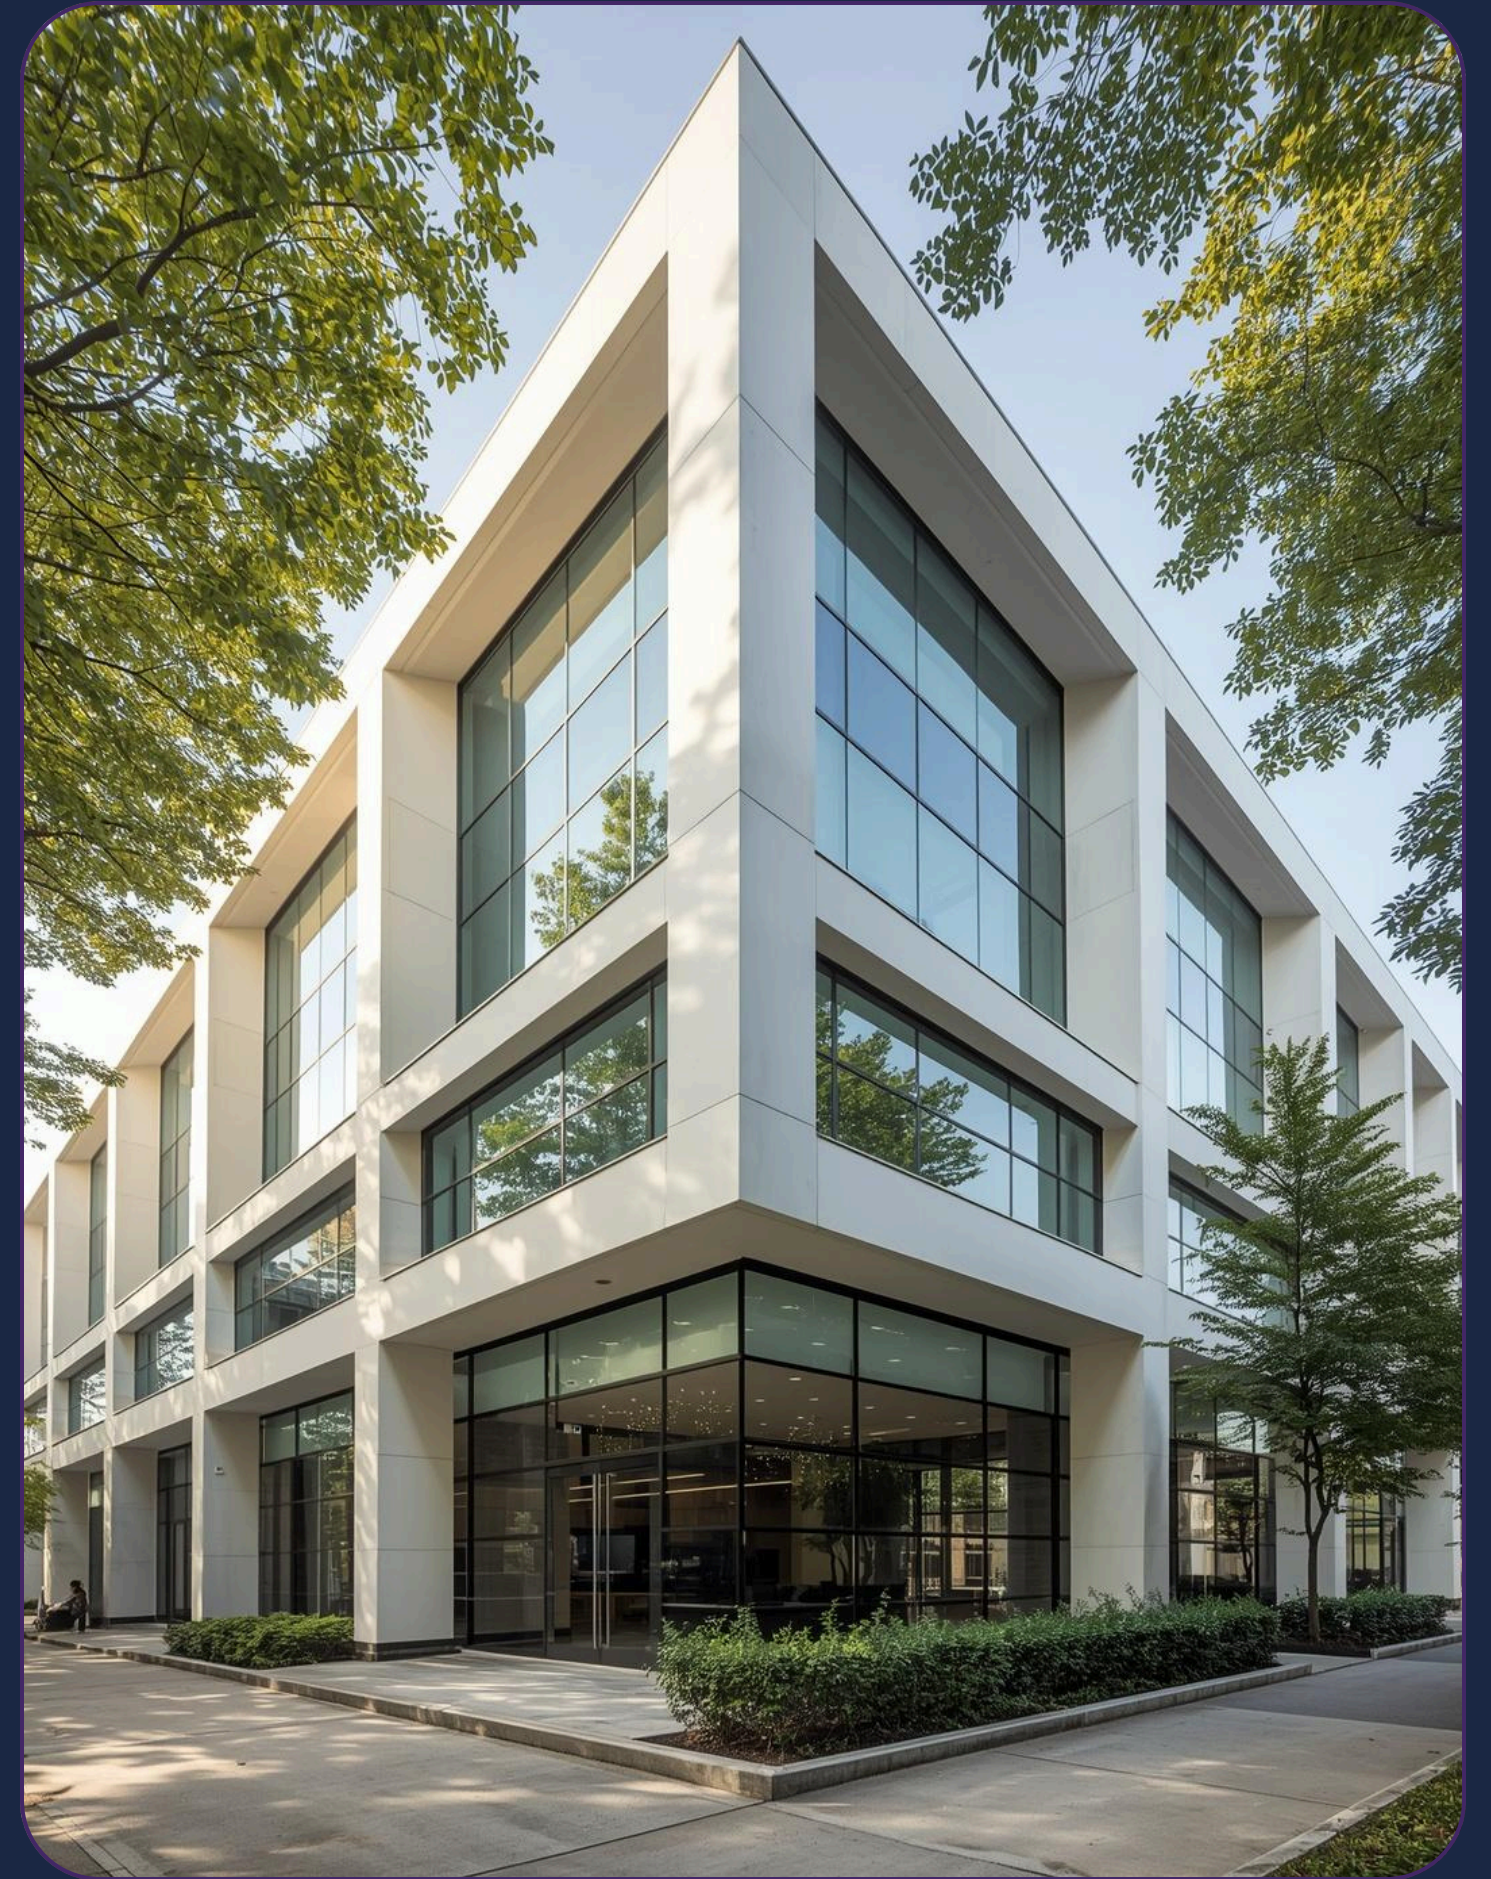

Advisory Method

Proactive outreach enhances client trust and underscores institutional competence, ensuring clients are prepared for regulatory changes.

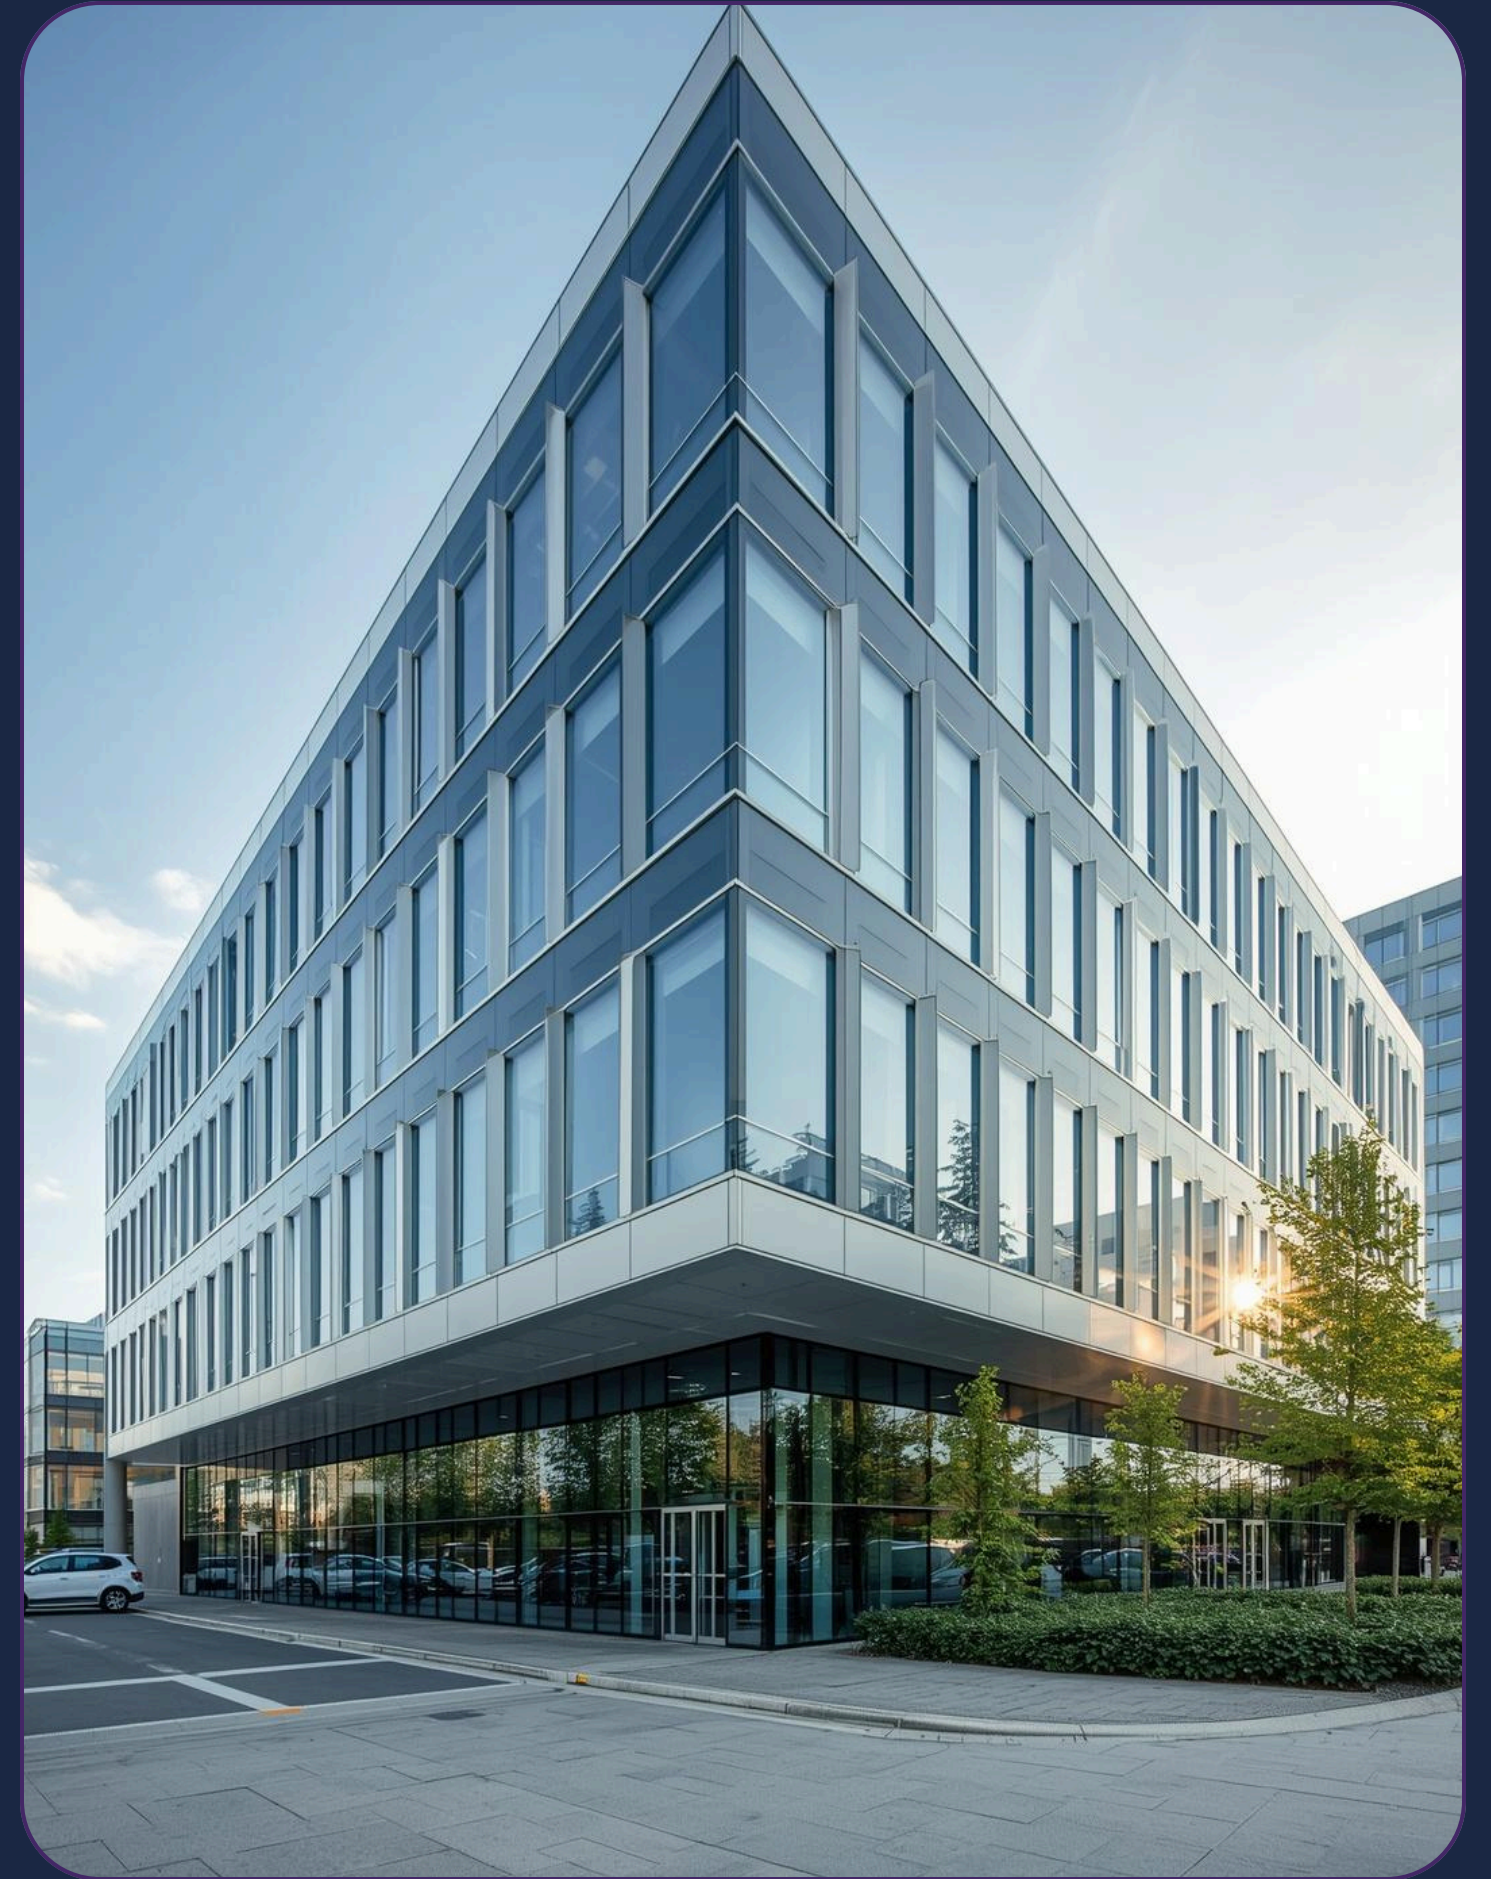

Firm Positioning

The company aims to establish itself as a trusted, compliant operator in the evolving regulatory landscape.

Commercial Implications

A stricter compliance model paves the way for higher-value service bundles that enhance operational support and governance.
